TAKING TESTS

MULTIPLE CHOICE

Test-Taking Basics

- Read directions carefully.
- Review the whole test before beginning.
- Plan your time. Figure out how much time to spend on each section or question. Count how many questions are on the test and how many points each is worth. Spend the most time answering the questions worth the most points.
- Answer the easiest questions first.
- Review your answers.

Multiple Choice questions

Multiple choice questions ask a question and give a choice of answers. You have to decide which answer is correct.

Tips for multiple choice

- Read the question or statement with each answer to help you decide which choice is correct.
- Read every question; don't just choose the first right answer.
- If the question is about a reading passage, skim the question first and then read the passage. Look for answers as you read the passage.
- Sometimes more than one answer is right. If you think that's the case, look for answers like "A and C," or "all of the above."
- Cross out answers you know are incorrect.
- How many answers are left? If you crossed out all the answers but one, the correct answer is the one that is left. If you are left with more than one answer, re-read the question or answers that are left and choose the best answer.
- Answer every question, unless you lose points for a wrong answer.
- Check your answers.
- Change an answer only if you are sure it's wrong.
